Dear Parents/Carers of Year 11

This will be my penultimate letter to you during the GCSE summer exam period. We are nearly at the end of the process but there are still many important exams to go in the coming days. Once again, I want to thank you for your support in making sure our students are prepared and ready for their exams. The cram sessions appear to be working well and attendance to exams has been strong.

Now that we have reached the stage where some subjects have completed their assessments it makes sense to adapt how Year 11 should attend school. We want to strike the balance between providing the right level of support for the exams still to be taken and the freedom for students to revise independently when they have lessons where courses have completed. Therefore, the plan for the next week will be as follows and attached.

- The exam cram sessions and entry times will remain the same. Students should arrive to school at 8.00am for morning exams through their normal entrance, students should be onsite by 12.25pm for afternoon exams and can have lunch in school. When students come in during the academy they should come in through Reception.
- All lessons for exams yet to take place will continue (see attached).
- Students who have completed courses will now not attend those lessons.
- Students will be able to sign in and out during the academy day, but we will be expecting them to attend lessons as per the plan below. For example, after the English Paper 2 exam on Monday we would expect only Geography students to remain, the others can leave and then return for the afternoon lesson if they have it.
- Some staff will have made arrangements for some students to come in for final farewell lessons. They will go ahead as organised by the individual teacher.

I hope this makes sense and will help manage the workload for students at this time. As always, please do get in touch with Mr Tyler, Mrs Bewley or myself if you have any queries about the process.

Yours sincerely
